

RICHMOND MARKET HITS $31.40 AVERAGE

Over $50,000 Distributed Among Non-Pool Growers On First Day of Home House Sale

A total of $51,918 was distributed among farmers who sold tobacco over the floors of the Home Warehouse at the opening sales Thursday.

The total poundage sold was 173,375. Rejections were considered unusually light, everything considered, only 7,000 pounds being rejected by the farmers. Most of the rejections were said to be of real high class tobacco which seemed to sell under what some thought it should bring.

The grand average for the day was $31.40 for all tobacco which went under the hammer—a figure which tobacco men say, goes to prove that Richmond is and always has been the best tobacco market in the state and that the best tobacco is raised around in its territory.

There was keen interest all day Thursday in the sales and big crowds followed the buyers as they moved from row to row. As a rule prices were considered very good. Members of the Burley Association who were watching the sales very closely were much pleased with the prices. They believe that they are a sure index of splendid prices for their weed when it is sold.

One of the outstanding features of the day, according to those who watched the sales, was the "stinging" that a number of members of the Ancient and Honorable Order of Pinhookers are said to have received on the opening sales. One of the high members of the order is said to have watched a crop of tobacco that he paid 55 cents for, go under the hammer at 30 cents. Others are said to have dropped sizable sums, their judgment having gone sadly astray in many instances, regarding the prices that some crops were going to bring. Notwithstanding the first day's setback, however, most of them were on duty bright and early for the second sales Friday.

The big companies are nearly all represented. Among the buyers here are the ever-happy W. S. Jolly, better known as "Pep," representing his firm of R. J. Reynolds & Co.; J. M. Fuller for Leggett & Myers; R. E. Head for Lorillard; Mr. Boswell, of the American Tobacco Company, and Wm. Darnell for the J. P. Taylor Co. Mr. Zeigler is buying independently as usual. Preston Smith is back in his old place as chief calculator. He is being assisted by Mr. Troutman, Neville Witt and James S. Crutcher, is putting his John Hancock on the checks for the boys.

Burley Association Plans To Begin Handling of Pooled Tobacco At Once

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 16—All warehouses in the burley belt, valued at more than $5,000,000, and that wish to sell, will be transferred to the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, plans announced last night at the adjournment of the first meeting of the board of directors indicated.

Four meetings of warehousemen from different sections of Kentucky, and from Indiana and Ohio, will be called tomorrow by Ralph M. Barker, director of warehouses.

The first will be held at Carrollton December 20, at which warehousemen from the northwestern section of the burley district will and from Indiana will gather to hear the plan which has been tentatively drawn up by the association.

Other meetings will be held at Shelbyville, December 21, Maysville, December 22, and Lexington, December 23.

The last day the board of directors will hold its second meeting to approve the terms negotiated by Mr. Barker for the transfer of the warehouses to the association.

Under the tentative plan adopted yesterday, Kentucky will be divided into four warehouse districts, in each of which a subsidiary corporation to handle and store tobacco belonging to the association. The counties comprising each district will be announced today.

Each subsidiary will be under cross contract with the association to handle the tobacco of the association at cost, and in return, the association agrees to pay all cost of operation, including purchasing payments.

Directors of each subsidiary will be independent of the association, in order to comply with rulings by banks and government credit agencies.

The Bingham Co-operative Marketing Act, which Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville originator of the burley co-operative movement in Kentucky, drew, together with Aaron Sapiro, counsel for the association, and Judge Alex P. Humphrey, of Louisville Clearing House Association, and which will be introduced in the Kentucky legislature as soon as it convenes, was read and approved by the directors at the session yesterday morning.

By-laws for the operation of the association also were adopted.

Sales and financial policies of the association will be put into effect immediately. James C. Stone, president and general manager, said last night.

Lexington's Average $25.96

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 16—The season's first sale of burley tobacco yesterday at the Jewell Tobacco Warehouse was marked with only fairly good prices, according to farmers and warehousemen. Low grades of the weed sold well, it was stated, but the better grades did not bring quite what was expected.

A total of 139,125 pounds were sold at an average of $25.96 a hundred. The highest price brought was $68 from the crop of Wilhoit and Watson, of Scott county.

Buyers from six companies were on hand and the bidding was lively. A great crowd of owners and interested onlookers followed the sale and at times became so great that the buyers were handicapped.

EASTERN WINS FROM WESLEYAN

Local Basketeers Put Up Star Game Against Collegians In First of Season

The Eastern Normal basketball five won its first game of the season when it triumphed over the Kentucky Wesleyan College team of Winchester, in the Madison High gymnasium Thursday night by a score of 24 to 12. The local goal tappers outplayed the Clark county invaders at every stage of the game and were only threatened at the close of the first half. When the whistle blew for the end of the first half, the Maroon and White basketeers were leading by a score of one point. When the second half started the locals began to pile up a safe lead and in a few minutes of play the game was as good as won by the Eastern warriors.

The game started off as if the teams were going the whole game without scoring. Byrd, of Eastern, the crack forward, soon broke the monotony of this by dropping in a fine goal from a position just back of the free goal line. The next few minutes found the Eastern men scoring with Wesleyan coming along for her share also. Jimmy McCourt proved to be the star performer for Wesleyan, caging the basket three times from the field while only two of his other team mates succeeded in throwing a basket.

Chester Clark, a former Model High player, played running guard for Winchester. He played forward for the Model five several years and showed great promise in his high school days here. It looked real good to see "Chick" covering the floor with his usual speed.

The two Berea lads came in for their part in Wesleyan's defeat. Both Clark and Stephenson showed themselves to be coming star in the Maroon and White basketball ranks. Clark cavorted at a forward position while Stephenson started from center. Clark tied Byrd for the highest number of points, collecting four field goals. Stephenson ran them; close second with three field goals.

At the guard position Ear Combs and Maimous played stellar roles for the local team. Combs played a great floor game and jumped into the dizzy heights for the ball several times.

He proved to be a thorn in Wesleyan's side and they would have to throw regular flies to get the ball over his head. Maimous also played a fine floor game and succeeded in holding his forward to one field goal. The two teams will meet again in Winchester sometime in January. The line up:

Wesleyan 12 Eastern 24
Hardin 2 Clark 8
McCourt 8 Stephenson 8
Beaverly 2 Stephenson 6
Clark 2 Combs 6
Carroll 1 Maimous 2
Referee—Carter.

Winchester Hi Comes Tonight

The Madison High basketball team takes on Winchester City Hi as their opponents at Madison gym Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Madison boys have been drilled by Coach Lassiter in the last few days so that they can win over the Winchester Hi team which is one of the strongest in this section of the country. Coach Lassiter will probably start Talton and Harry Stone at the forward positions. These two lads played these two positions for Madison last year and according to those who have the inside dope are better than ever before. Talton Stone improved to such an extent that he made no less than four field goals in any game at the last of the season of 1920-21. He went over this mark in several of the games. Harry Stone plays running forward and is sure to be heard from in the Winchester game.

At center, Joe Reeves is slated to start. He played that position on the freshman team at Madison last year but now seems to be the best tip-off man at Madison. John Allman also has been showing some skill at center.

The two stand-bys, Hurst and Clouse, are almost certain to be Coach Lassiter's pick for guards. They are also members of last year's team on which they distinguished themselves. These men are expected to hold the Winchester attack in check Friday night and will not fall far short of that thing. Madison trounced Winchester here last year and the Clark county boys are coming greatly strengthened by blood in their eye. A large crowd should be out to give the boys a big send-off.

FRANCE GUMS UP NAVAL AGEEMENT

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 16—The French delegation presented a proposal for so great an increase in the strength of the French navy that the British declare such a program, if carried out, will upset the whole 5, 5, 3 naval reduction. Although not entirely revealed, the British understand the French plan provides for construction of ten super-dreadnoughts in ten years subsequent to 1925. These vessels would give France more tonnage than Japan and a preponderance of the new "Post-Jutland" type of craft over all nations.

Italy, although indicating disapproval of the French building program, is said to have told the arms conference that if France constructs ten such ships Italy must carry out a similar program. Meanwhile Arthur Balfour, head of the British delegation, gave notice that Great Britain would propose abolition of submarines.

BONAPARTE MAY RULE ALBANIA

New York, Dec. 16—A J. C. Greco, the Albanian high commissioner at Washington, is conferring with Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, of New York, and American member of the Bonaparte family, regarding an invitation to become king of Albania, which has been vacant since William of Wied fled to Switzerland at the beginning of the world war. The New York Evening Mail today said it had been informed that Bonaparte is a descendant of Elizabeth "Betsy" Patterson, of Baltimore, whom Jerome Bonaparte married in this country after being exiled from France by Napoleon Bonaparte. Jerome later became king of Westphalia and remarried in Europe when Napoleon refused to recognize his American marriage. Jerome is a great grand nephew of Napoleon.

Hundreds of new subscribers to the Daily Register poured into the office during the last days of the campaign. The candidates and their friends worked with might and main and the subscription list of the Daily Register grew to proportions which are probably not equalled by any country newspaper in a town of this size in Kentucky.

It has been an enthusiastic endeavor on the part of every one connected with the enterprise to build up the subscription list of the Daily Register. That it has been successful far beyond the expectations of the management is hereby acknowledged with grateful appreciation to the many who worked long and faithfully to the end.

SWEET 'TATERS SAVE TOBACCO LOSSES

(City Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 15.—Farmers around Wingo and other points in Graves county have a way to beat the varying fortunes of the tobacco market, according to G. Ivan Barnes, supervisor of high school agricultural work in the Kentucky Department of Education. The method decided upon was to grow sweet potatoes instead of tobacco on a part of their ground and credit is given Prof. E. H. Smith, of Wingo High School, and L. Hammonds.

Last year the farmers of this section of Graves county suffered heavily from the low price of tobacco. They cast about for some other means of overcoming the risks of a one-crop system, raising sweet potatoes after finding that the soil in that section was adapted to this crop. The sweet potatoes of more than 500 acres and sent to Tennessee for Earl Carlson to take charge.

Mr. Carlson planted seed potatoes and sold the slips to farmers at $2.50 a thousand. The farmers agreed to store their potatoes in Wingo and they were to be sold by Mr. Carlson when the market was favorable. To date there are more than 500,000 bushels of potatoes in that section. A storage house at Wingo was arranged for to hold 40,000 bushels and another with a 20,000 bushel capacity was arranged at Mayfield.

Prof. Barnes is telling of the success of the plan in Graves laid a part of it to the teaching of agriculture in high schools under the plan whereby the United States government provides part of the expenses of running the school. The state last year received $92,000 from the federal government for high school agriculture and next year will receive a larger sum. There are now 40 high schools in the state which meet the federal requirements and 104 which are teaching agriculture but do not meet the federal requirements.

The federal funds are provided on the understanding that the state or locality will furnish half of the cost. At present the state's share is being contributed by local boards or persons who live in the school districts.

The same plan prevails in the teaching of home economics and in trade school extension work. J. T. Ryan is supervisor of the latter work in the state. There are now classes in various forms of trade extension in Louisville, Frankfort, Paris, Paducah, Ashland, Covington, Owensboro, and Princeton. The work ranges from millinery and shoe repairing to automobile mechanics, metallurgy, heat treatment of metals, printing, furniture repairing, electric wiring, machine works, and training of foremen.

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—th sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold. de 158 at 4tc.

The Cecilian Club and a number of guests were delightfully entertained in the pretty home of Mrs. S. J. McGaughey on Summit street Wednesday afternoon. After the program, a social hour and delicious lunch were enjoyed. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. M. C. Kellogg December 29th.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, aching and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbors.

Mrs. Carrie Long, 140 Tate-Creek avenue, Richmond, says: "A few years ago I was down with kidney trouble and for two months I suffered so I couldn't straighten my back or turn over in bed I was so helpless. Every time I moved the pain was so severe I would scream. My limbs and joints were stiff and swollen. I had dizzy, swimming sensation in my head and objects flashed before my eyes. My kidneys acted irregularly and although I tried all sorts of remedies I was not benefited until I was finally told of Doan's Kidney Pills by a friend. Doan's soon cured me of all signs of the trouble and I was able to do my work. My back was well and strong." (Statement given November 20, 1916.)

On March 1, 1921, Mrs. Long added: "It has been a long time since I have needed Doan's Kidney Pills. Should I ever again need a kidney remedy I would certainly take Doan's."

Better Advertising For Better Business

Reflect Your Windows
In Your Advertising—

Local merchants are finding more and more the value of a close tie-up between their show windows and their local newspaper advertising. Advertising will bring customers to your store; your show windows, by their interesting, effective display, should urge them inside. For this reason it is wise to feature the same products in your windows and your newspaper advertising. Talk with your local publisher about this. Usually, he is a careful student of advertising and will be able to give you good advice.

BARKER STARTS TO BUY WAREHOUSES

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Dec. 16—The first step toward the actual taking over by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association of warehouses of the burley district was indicated by Warehouse Manager, Ralph M. Barker here today when he sent telegrams to every warehouseman in the district informing them of meetings to be held in four districts into which Kentucky has been divided. At the same time a letter was sent asking the warehousemen to have meeting of their stockholders and empower some person to act for them in selling or renting the warehouse.

RICHMOND LODGE HAS BIG NIGHT

Richmond lodge No. 25 E. & A. M. exemplified the Master's degree in the superlative sense Tuesday night. Past masters of the lodge constituted the degree team. Visitors were here from half a dozen towns. Earl Combs, Normal student, and highly esteemed by every man who knows him, was raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason. Rarely has the Master's degree been put on with such a distinguished assemblage. The occasion was a memorable one in Masonic history here. Afterwards refreshments were served and enjoyed by all. Richmond lodge No. 25 never does things by halves. The occasion fulfilled in every way the historic traditions of this great order.

WAGGONER HAS A GOOD BILL

(By Associated Press)
Stamping Ground, Ky., Dec. 16—Pistol "oters" will have to get a license and register their guns if Rev. George C. Waggoner, of this place, who will represent Scott county again in the 1922 legislature, can convince enough of his colleagues of the desirability of such a law and secure its passage. Rev. Waggoner also will attempt to secure passage of a law giving counties the right to appeal to the courts from decisions of the State Tax Commission, he said.

Rev. Waggoner is especially interested in education, agriculture and good roads legislation, he said, and will endeavor to secure passage of bills that will aid all. He also will seek an amendment to the Fish and Game laws, allowing the gigging of fish during a limited time each year and also to allow the use of dipnets and one allowing damage for fox hounds killed during a chase.

Says There Are Enough Laws

(By Associated Press)
Mt. Sterling, Dec. 16—There are plenty of laws on the Kentucky statute books at present in the opinion of S. B. Lane, who will represent this county in the lower house of the 1922-23 legislature. Mr. Lane said here today that because of his belief, he is going to be very careful what he votes for during the session of the legislature which begins in January, and that a bill would have to have great merit before he would vote for it.

For the recipients, Electrical Gifts will give Christmas day an added meaning and increase happiness, comfort, and convenience every time they are used.

Stories of Great Scouts

By Elmo Scott Watson

"BAT" MASTERSON'S REVENGE ON THE CHEYENNES

One December day in the early seventies a young buffalo hunter down in the Texas Panhandle was busy skinning a buffalo when five Cheyennes of Chief Bear Shield's band rode up, sat on their heels idly watching him work. Although the hunter's Sharps rifle was lying some distance away, he was not worried, for the Cheyennes were supposed to be peaceful at that time.

Presently one of the red men dismounted and picked up the Sharps as though to examine it and, as he did so, another reached across and whipped the pistol from the holster in the hunter's belt. Instantly the first Indian struck the white man a murderous blow across the forehead with the rifle and in broken but emphatic English told him to "git." The hunter was outnumbered five to one; he "git."

The victim of the Cheyennes was "Bat" Masterson. William Barclay Masterson was his name, but his success as a buffalo hunter had won him the title of "Bat," as a worthy successor to Baptiste Brown, "Old Bat," a mighty slayer of game in the old days. Masterson reached his camp in safety. That night he rode stealthily into Bear Shield's village and "cut out" all of the old chief's ponies. As he worked he came upon another rider engaged in the same occupation. It proved to be Billie Tighman, a fellow buffalo hunter who later became a famous deputy United States marshal.

When in 1874 a war party swept down upon the Adobe Walls, the buffalo hunters' headquarters, some of Bear Shield's warriors rode with it and one of the defenders of the little stockade was "Bat" Masterson. Then and there he obtained revenge for the blow which the Cheyenne had struck him.

After the Adobe Walls fight, Masterson enlisted as a scout for General Miles and served with him until the southern plains tribes were subdued. A few years later he was elected sheriff of Ford county, Kansas, Indian city, the county seat, was one of the toughest cowboy towns in the West but when Masterson resigned in 1881 it was one of the most peaceful. By his courage and his skill he had established a record second only to Wild Bill Hickok as a tamer of "bad men." Then he left the West never to return, and today "Bat" Masterson is a high salaried writer on a New York newspaper.

LACK OF VITAMINES IN OUR DAILY FOOD

Causes Thin, Weak, Run-Down Conditions

Dr. Harrow, of Columbia University Says "Vitamines In Food Necessary To Sustain Life"

Science Finds A Perfect Vitamine Food

For the first time on record, a perfectly balanced Vitamine Food is offered the people of Richmond with its efficacy scientifically proven in one of our oldest and best known Medical Colleges in this country.

SUSTO is the name of the preparation. It is a combination in convenient tablet form of the nutritive and growth-promoting properties of Milk, Yeast, Rice, Eggs and Beer, together with Beef Protein, Nuclein and Iron.

Its composition being based on medical experience and the latest discoveries in nutrition, there was reason to believe it would meet the wide-spread need for a dependable reconstructive in cases of malnutrition, under-development of children, certain forms of anemia, general debility, blood impoverishment and loss of weight, and as an upbuilder of convalescents. Yet, appreciating the responsibility connected with offering it for general use, the maker of SUSTO decided to secure indisputable proof of its actual value.

So the preparation was submitted to Dr. Philip B. Hawk, Professor of Physiological Chemistry at Jefferson Medical College Philadelphia, with instructions to definitely ascertain its worth in the most conclusive ways known to science.

Under his personal supervision the formula was perfected and subjected to a series of therapeutic and feeding tests on normal and sick human beings, with unusual success in every instance.

By its use under-weight persons gained flesh rapidly, the weak were made strong, and health and energy replaced weakened, run-down conditions. Thus in the final report of this investigation it was stated that SUSTO is a true food of the greatest value for malnutrition and its allied diseases.

Perry's Drug Store is enthusiastic in regard to SUSTO, the retail agency for which they have secured for this territory. Ask about SUSTO at Perry's Drug Store. If you try the treatment for one month, at a cost of 10 cents a day, and you are not a better health every way—weight more and feel stronger—they will return your money.

ADVERTISING NOW A CREDIT FUNDAMENTAL

Chicago, Dec. 16.—Advertising is one of the fundamentals of credit, F. Guy Davis, western manager of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, told a congregation of salesmen here today.

"John Fletcher, the Chicago banker, cannot understand why it is that the impression has got around that the banker is opposed to advertising," Mr. Davis said. "Indeed he insists on the direct contrary that advertising really has a vital relation to credit."

"Mr. Fletcher, in a recent interview with me said: 'Bankers have always considered well planned advertising as an asset. But it is only comparatively lately that they have come to regard it as one of the determining factors in the extension of credit. The force that produces selling reputation is advertising. Advertising is really one of the fundamentals of credit. The old time idea of requiring a business man to have several dollars for every cent that he borrows is no longer the exclusive consideration. He may have the dollars and still not get the loan, even in normal times. The man himself, his ability, the way he talks, his understanding of his business, his enthusiasm, yes, and even his belief in advertising, all enter into the calculation more than many people believe.'"

Mr. Fletcher also brings out another interesting point when he says: "The drop in commodity prices is bringing back into the buying field, the thoughtful, reading, discriminating people of fixed income, who have always been the back-bone of the market, for quality goods at fair

BEREA SOIL TEST A LESSON TO FARMERS

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 16.—Farming often is spoken of as a gamble in which the farmer takes a chance with the weather, soil conditions, markets and various other things, but unlike the ordinary games of chance, farming is apt to prove profitable to the soil tiller who pockets all the profits the refuses to "sweeten the pot," according to soils and crop specialists at the Kentucky Agricultural Station. In fact results obtained during the past year on the Berea experiment and which is conducted by the station in co-operation with Berea College, indicate that the farmer who anticipates systematically and wisely is apt to be more prosperous than the one who sits in the game and does nothing but draw out his winnings.

In spite of the fact that the 1921 season was an especially dry one, corn and soy beans on the field have responded remarkably well to manure, limestone and phosphate, according to final results compiled on the field by S. C. Jones, soils specialist at the station.

One plot on the field, which was treated with manure, produced 48.3 bushels of corn and 3.20 pounds of soy bean hay to the acre, or 38 bushels more of corn and 1,040 pounds of soy bean hay than did a similar plot that as not so treated. On plots where both manure and limestone were used, the yield of corn was 60.6 bushels and that of soy bean hay 4,100 pounds to the acre, or 30.3 bushels of corn more and 2,600 pounds more of soy bean hay than was the case with untreated plot.

The most striking results were obtained on plots which received a treatment of manure, limestone and acid phosphate, these yielding 74.1 bushels of corn and 4,670 pounds of soy bean hay to the acre. This was 63.8 bushels more of corn and 3,110 pounds more of soy bean hay than was the case on the untreated plot, which yielded 10.3 bushels of corn and 1,560 pounds of soy bean hay to the acre.

The results are said to have a particular value to the farmers in the vicinity of Berea, inasmuch as the field contains soil which is representative of thousands of acres of land adjacent to the hills, which extend around the border of the line grass region from Vanceburg on the northeast to Louisville on the southwest. The field is located about two miles east of Berea on low, white "crawfish" land.

Manure has been used at the rate of six tons to the acre, limestone at the rate of two tons to the acre and acid phosphate at the rate of 800 pounds to the acre this amount being applied in a rotation of corn, soy beans, wheat, and clover. After the second round of the rotation is completed limestone will be omitted and acid phosphate used, at the rate of 400 pounds to the acre. Experiments have been conducted on the field since 1912.

prices. Advertising has always played its important part in the cultivation of this market and it will play an increasingly important part in the future for reasons which are obvious to the serious student of business conditions."

"Since all batteries have the same effect on the outside, how can I tell which one has the most 'juice'?" That is a practical example of a question—and it has a simple answer. What greater assurance could you possibly have than the following explanation of facts:
1—Extraordinary quality in the material used, so shown by the heavy construction of the battery.
2—A maximum number of cells per gallon of acid and water.
3—A record for quality and service.
4—A built-in reserve for the duration of the war.

The Law Says 16 oz. to a Pound
